

Join the Oxford Business Alumni Network LinkedIn group

The Oxford Business Alumni Network LinkedIn group is a closed group, exclusively for alumni of degree, diploma, on-campus Executive Education programmes and Oxonians alongside current Oxford Saïd students. All group members are verified, so you'll know you're connecting with genuine Oxonians. On joining, fellow members of this group are considered part of your network, which means you can contact them by sending a direct message on LinkedIn or by posting through the group.

Consider your approach:

- Customise your approach – introduce yourself as an Oxford Saïd student/alumnus and explain where you found their information.
- Research and identify appropriate alumni (2-hour job search) – early reciprocal networking is important – what is important to you and what you can offer them.
- In your introduction, outline your interests and the reason for contacting them – what interested you about their profile, how their experience may reflect your own, what was their journey to this company/position?
- Keep your request concise and professional
- Be clear about a suggested next step and be mindful that alumni are busy and may not reply as quickly as you may expect
- Follow through on any additional action points that were discussed
